

Younts Consulting, Inc. and Heavy Water, Ltd. Announce Strategic Alliance to Deliver Highly Accessible Content Management Systems

Relationship expected to drive increased customer value through intimate partnership

New Rochelle, NY and Pasadena, MD, June 1, 2009, - Younts Consulting, a leading provider of document and records management solutions and Heavy Water, a leading provider of integrated & unified networks; data, voice, video & storage technologies, today announced a strategic alliance to jointly market, support and deliver end to end content management solutions, specifically designed for maximum performance over Wide Area Networks (WANs).

The Younts and Heavy Water alliance will enable organizations to leverage the core expertise of both organizations to insure superiority in design, deployment and administration of content management systems. Via this alliance, customers will have the benefit of working with a single team to design and deliver highly accessible collaborative solutions, locally and across WANs.

The agreement will give clients access to all-inclusive best practices, solutions and services for highly optimized content management solutions and underlying infrastructures.

"We believe that the combined strengths of Heavy Water and Younts Consulting will provide our mutual customers with comprehensive solutions for content management and a network infrastructure designed to maximize performance for sharing of information," stated Michael Oh, CEO of Heavy Water.

"Our customers will benefit by leveraging the best of both organizations," said Chris Degnan, CEO of Younts Consulting. "Both organizations have reputations for excellence for planning and deploying Content Management solutions and Network Infrastructures. By joining forces, we are able to maintain our core focus/strengths, at the same time, teaming to provide optimized design and deployments of end-to-end solutions for our mutual clients."

"Our mission is to deliver technology solutions that make the firm more efficient, more effective, more competitive and less vulnerable" said Kim Wismer, CTO at Ballard Spahr Andrews & Ingersoll, LLP. "We were able to leverage the strengths of Younts Consulting and Heavy Water to implement a new document management system. The system provides practical, efficient and secure tools for organizing and storing documents and files; as well as powerful, intuitive search capabilities for finding and retrieving them. It also positions us to more effectively manage records retention, particularly with respect to electronic records. Because the system is optimized over our wide area network, it is proving to be a responsive, cost effective and scalable solution."

About Younts Consulting

Younts Consulting is one of the largest Autonomy iManage partners in North America, focused on providing consulting services to assist clients deploying and maintaining document and records management solutions.

About Heavy Water

Heavy Water is one of the fastest growing convergence integrators in the Northeast. In providing expertise in all the elements of convergence the voice, video, storage, data and business continuity, Heavy Water is uniquely positioned to be support technology for the new generation.

Contacts:

Younts Consulting - Donna Keys, Account Manager
dkeys@younts.com
202-478-4109

Heavy Water- Rachele Pearce, Sales Coordinator
rpearce@heavywaterltd.com
914-244-4802